LEADERS IN COUNCIL.

The Republican Executive Committee Meets.

Chairman Quay Tenders His Resignation, Which is Accepted.

Treasurer W. W. Dudley also Withdraws from the Committee.

Resolutions Highly Eulogistic o Both Adopted - The National Convention to be Held Earlier than Usual.

By Telegraph to The Times.
WASHINGTON, July 29.—[By the Asociated Press.] The National Republican Executive Committee met here this afternoon. Of the thirteen members there were present but seven: Chairman M. S. Quay of Pennsylvania Vice-Chairman J. S. Clarkson of Iowa, Treasurer W. W. Dudley of Indiana, Samuel Fessenden of Connecticut, Garrett A. Hobart of New Jersey and

J. M. Haynes of Maine. The first business was the consideration of accounts growing out of the last campaign, submitted by Treasurer Dudley. Col. Scott of Omaha made a speech in favor of holding the next Republican National Convention in that city. A large correspondence was also laid before the committee. Many active politicians in different parts of the country had suggestions to make and conclusions to draw from mitted ingenious plans to meet its threatened inroads in the party's strength. Others referred to general grievances and causes of dissatisfaction among Republicans, which might be evercome by proper treatment.

Some discussion followed as to the time and place of the meeting of the full National Republican Committee. and it was finally decided to entrust the selection of the place of meeting and the exact date to Chairman Quay and Secretary Fassett, with a proviso that the meeting shall take place in November.
The time-honored custom of allowing six months' notice of the meeting of the nominating convention is to be observed. This action is an indication tion that the next National Republican Convention will we held not later than May next.

After electing W. J. Campbell of Illinois a member of the committee in place of George Davis of the same State, the committee took a recess for Tonight's session was held with closed doors. The first business was consideration of the following letter: WASHINGTON, July 29.

Hon. J. Sloat Fassett, secretary of the ational Republican Committee—Dear

National Republican Committee—DEAR SIR: This is to appraise you that I have today forwarded to Hon. William Andrews, chairman of the Republican State Committee of Pennsylvania my resignation as a member of the Republican National Committee from that State.

Yours truly,

Upon motion of Mr. Clarkson the following resolution was adopted:
Resolved, that we accept against our

Resolved, that we accept against our judgment and with much doubt as to the wisdom and expediency of it for the party's interest, the action of Senator Quay in his resignation as chairman and member of the National Committee. In submitting to it with so much rejuctance and regret we desire to express from our own knowledge of the facts his prominent service to the party, the facts his prominent service to the party, the facts his prominent service to the party. with so much reluctance and regret we desire to express from our own knowledge of the facts his prominent service to the party, our sense of deep obligation under which he has placed the Republican party and the cause of good government and patriotism in the United States. He undertook the leadership of a doubtful cause at a time when the Republican party was disheartened and the Democratic party confident in the power of supreme control in the Government and Nation, and when the odds of the contest were against our party; and by his matchless power, unequalled skill and resources, genius to command victory, he won for his party an unprecedented victory in the face of expected defeat. We know, as no one else can know, that the contest which he waged was one as much of honor and fair methods as of invincible power and triumphant victory, and that it was won largely by the power of his superior generalship and unfailing strength as a political leader. In the great contest of 1888, in the months of severe effort and during years of close personal association with him we have learned to know the nobility of the man, and we desire in this conspicuous manner to place on public record for the present and future, as an enduring answer to the partisan assaults of a defeated enemy, our testimony in appreciation of his public services and personal worth.

The Auditing Committee reported that after a thorough inspection all money was found fully accounted for and recommended that the treasurer's accounts be approved and the committee express to him its sense of great accounts be approved and the commit-tee express to him its sense of great obligation for faithful and efficient services.

The chairman then read the following letter, dated at Washington: To the Executive Committee of the Republican National Committee—Dear Friends and Associates: Iuasmuch as

To the Executive Committee of the Republican National Committee—DEAR FRIENDS AND ASSOCIATES: Inasmuch as you are about to reorganize the Executive Committee for immediate preparatory work pending the approaching Presidential election of 1892, and as my business engagements will demand all my time and attention during the coming year, I am compelled to sever the pleasant relations which have existed and still exist between us. I therefore tender my resignation of the office of treasurer of your committee and of the Republican National Committee.

Respectfully yours, [Signed] W. W. Dudley.

The committee immediately adopted the following:

Resolved, that while we are left by Mr. Dudley's own wish no other course than to consent to his retirement from the committee we feel that his action deprives the committee and the party of the invaluable and loyal services of one who has proved himself one of the ablest and most faithful public men of his time, in every field of honorable contest and patriotic purpose. As a soldier winning in his boyhood the stars of General of the Union army; as a public official serving with equal fidelity his coustry in prominent places; in the political field, with like ambition for the Nation's good, he has proved himself always worthy of the respect and admiration of his countrymen. In his whole life is a generous nature he has given freely time and labor never thinking of private profit or personal emolument. His whole life is a generous proof of his manilness of purpose and patriotism as acitizen. Speaking from what we know of his rare abilities and unusual devotion to party and country, we would express this grateful evidence of what we know the Republicen party owes him for his services in so many of its contests and expecially in the memorable struggle of 1888. We part from him officially with sincere regret, and in doing so wish to put on the record of the committee this expression of the party's gratitude and personal friendship in which we know he is so worthy to be held. The resignations of Chairman Quay and Treasurer Dudley were formally accepted and laid on the table, subject to approval of the full Republican National Committee at the next meeting.

Mr. Clarkson was elected chairman of the Executive Committee, and Mr. Hobart vice-chairman. The chairman was authorized to select a treasurer to succeed Dudley. The committee then eed Dudley. The committee then adjourned.

A circular has been issued by Thomas Orwig, the acknowledged leader of the Prohibitionists, which attempts to feel the public pulse by praising the Republican party and hinting that in view of the feet that the Republicans have in times to make and conclusions to draw from the last Congressional election. They pointed out the dangers of the alliance movement in their States and submitted ingenious plans to meet its hold assertion that the Republicans have sold their party to the cold water men." PEFFER'S WILD TALK.

Remarkable Speech by the Kansas Senator.
SULPHUR SPRINGS (Tex.,) July 29.— By the Associated Press.] Senator Peffer was the orator at the Farmers' Encampment last night, More than 4000 people were present to hear the Kansas Senator. He wanted the Government to loan the people money at 1 per cent. to lift $9,000,000 of mortgages, and to pull the teeth and close the mouth of the great red dragon in Wall street. He proposed to do this with flat money issued directly to the people who had mortgaged their homes. His speech lasted two hours. He closed by saying that the People's party would finally elect President, Congress and the Senate, and if the Supreme Court was not with them they would make was not with them they would make Affray at a Barbeque. CHARLESTON (S. C.,) July 29.—At an alliance barbecue at Prosperity, Newberry county, ctoday, a serious cutting affray occurred between James Hunter and the Morrises. It was caused by an old feud between these parties. Hunter was struck on the head with a club and seriously injured. George Morris received a bad cut in the face and neck, which may prove fatal. H. M. Singly rushed in to stop the fight and was seriously, perhaps fatally, cut in the throat. F. Julius Epting was cut in the hand, and sev-eral others received minor injuries.

Abducted and Robbed JANETTE (Pa.,) July 29 .- Joe Moore, a wealthy citizen who recently mysteriously disappeared, was found tonight in an old cave near here almost dead from exposure and starvation. He had been taken to the cave by Joseph and Madison Johnston and robbed. It is said that during the past six months four or five citizens of Janette have mysteriously disappeared, and a searching party, accompanied by officers, will thoroughly search the cave, of the existence of which the citizens of the existence of which the citizens harstofore knew nothing. Regarding Ireland, Lord Salisbury said the government had applied a successful remedy to evils long suffered there, and could look back on its policy with satisfactson. Five years ago he had expressed the belief that Ireland must be governed resolutely. Balfour's success was largely due to the fact that those serving under him were assured that they would be supported and not handed over to their enemies. Balfour's administration owed its success to persistence and resolution [Cheers]. Respect for law followed, the people feeling that resistance to the law was futile. "The Land Act," Lord Salisbury de-clared, "would be found not to be a temporary palliative, but a permanent cure for the troubles of many genera-tions. It would draw closer the bond uniting the two countries. England in the last election declared against

Referring to foreign powers, Lord Salisbury said that he never knew a period when people were more tranquil, In South America alone was there a weary quarrel and constant disorder. The English government had been pressed to arbitrate in the Chilean dispute, and in the adjustment of Argentine inances, but England could not undertake either task.

Klenyle, pastor of the church of the Epiphany, East Los Angeles, was cited to appear before Justice Owens for examination, touching any property he might have to appear before Justice Owens for examination, touching any property he might have so that the same might be attached to satisfy a judgment obtained against him for $30 and costs, for the rent of a house belonging to Mrs. C. Kearney, residing in East Los Angeles. Robert J. Adcock and W. A. Los Angeles. Robert J. Adcock and W. A. Kyan, Esq., appeared for the reverend defendant. It appears that Mr. Kienyle took a lease of a house from Mrs. C. Kearney for one year with the option of anether year. Before the expiration, however, of the first year, the landlady wanted the premises for her own use, a month's rent being then due, he consented to move at the end of the month provided he was allowed to remain until that time free of charge; the landlady assented to this arrangement. After the lapse of several months the reverend gentleman was surprised at receiving a summons, demanding from him two months' rent, and immediately employed Attorney Prescott, however, for some unexplained re son permitted judgment to be taken against his client by default. The plaintiff put the defendant on the stand yesterd y morning to disclose what property he had subject to execution. The reverned gentleman testified he had nothing, and that the church prior to this time owed him about $300, which he had advanced out "I am 72 years old," he said to a Chronicle taken against his client by default. The plastiff put the defendant on the stand yesterd y morning to disclose what property he had subject to execution. The reverend gentleman testified he had nothing, and that the church prior to this time owed him about $500, which he had advanced out of his salary to complete the building of the church, but that he had since received the money. The next question asked the defendant was whether he had a watch. The reverend gentleman promptly answered that he had and that it was a very good one. The justice thereupon ordered the watch to be turned over to the custody of the court. This little episode somewhat astonished the audience, and certainly made it painful to the defendant as he had a picture of his little girl on the inside of the watch. The frank and manly answer given by the reverend defendant in the matter, won for him the admiration of every one present in the courtroom.

Charged with Embezziement.
Yesterday afternoon a man named J.
Rose was arrested on complaint of F. W.
Young, who runs a sort of sale and exchange stable, on a charge of embezzlement.

change stable, on a charge of emb-zzlement. Rose was taken before Justice Owens and released on $50 ball.

According to Rose's story he purchased a pole for a wagon from Young some days ago, on the undersanding that if it did not fit. Young would take it back. A day or two later he borrowed an old set of harness worth $5 or $4 from him. The pole could not be made to fit the wagon, and when he met Young, the latter demanded the return of his harness. Rose says he told him when he took back his misfit wagon pole and returned him his money, he would give up the harness. Young then had him arrested for embezziement. Rose says that he has also bought one or two horses from Young, and in each case got the worst of the bargain.

THE PEOPLE'S BANK. Scenes and Incidents During

Last Monday's Run. THE CONCERN IS SOLVENT

inator Fair Talks About Saving Banks and the Los Angeles Consolidated Electric Railroad - An Episode.

The slight flurry in San Francisco finansubsided. The effect of the report was to start a small run on the savings bank, which was checked by the Pacific Bank coming to its assistance. The bank examiners have reported that the concern is solvent, and while it has taken advantage of the tendays' notice for the payment of sums larger than $100, it is not likely that there will be any further trouble. A ran on a bank, however, is always an exciting incident in a big city, and this was no exception to the rule. The following account of scenes and incidents in and about the People's Home Savings Bank last Monday is from the nicle of Tueseday:

THE CROWD AT THE BANK.

Chronicle of Toeseday:

THE CROWD AT THE BANK.

Many anxious depositors congregated in front of the People's Home Savings Bank early yesterday morning. They went there to withdraw their money from the bank. While many of them secured the full amount of their deposits, others who did not manage to do so went away apparently satisfied with the assurance of the officers of the corporation that they would be given their money within ten days.

At one time there were fully 1000 people in front of the bank, many, however, being merely idle lookers-on, who were afterward dispersed by the police. At 8:45 am, there were over two hundred people in a line, which ran from a point on Fourth street, near market, around into Pioneer court, and to the rear entrance of the bank.

The crowd was by no means excited. It was merely determined in a business-like way, to gain entrance to the bank and get the money due it if possible.

From Sa.m. until 8:30 p.m., the crowd continued before the bank and also at the rear entrance. In the line of depositors were men in broadcloth and slik hats, is-beforers in their jeans, teamsters in leather aprons, schoolbuys with books and slates, school-mistresses in neat gowns, poor women with babes in their arms, and, in fact, people of every age and description.

The front door of the bank was closed. Before it stood a bank officer who grave to depositors who showed their books to him small white poleces of paper, each bearing a number, which indicated the position of the depositors who showed their books to him small white polece of every age and description.

The front door of the bank was closed. Before it stood a bank officer who grave to depositors who showed their books to him small white poleces of paper, each bearing and the frame of the foloob building. Up to 3 p. m. 1460 of these numbers were given out, while 450 of these numbers were given out, while 450 of these numbers were given out, while 450 of the persons who held them had formed a three of the foloob building. As soon as the Pacific Bank officers saw there was likely to be a run of considerable volume on the Pacific bank for mere funds. The effect of the sight of the bulky bags of gold coin coming in at the front door was very favorable to the bank, and it made many persons desist from their original intention of drawing out their deposits.

Five full trays of glittering gold—all in $20 pieces—flanked by other trays filled with sliver dollars met the gaze of each depositor as he stepped to the counter and laid down his deposit book. Some of them hesitated at the sight and went away, but nearly all drew their full account and interest to date.

The first person in the line was J. H. Bowen, to whom Cashier Havens smilingly gave the full amount of his deposit—$50 As soon as the Pacific Bank officers saw gave the full amount of his deposit—$50 and interest.

First among the female depositors came an aged Irish woman, who had $4000 in the bank, and who was very anxious to know if "I don't want to draw any money," she declared. "I only want to see if it is

She was conducted to the paying teller's window, and she gazed with evident satisfaction at the liberal display of gold, but she drew her money.

Dr. L. V. Leech of the Howard Methodist Episcopal Church rushed into the bank and demanded the money which he had on deposit there, about $2.00. Some of it, he said w.s his own, but the greater portion was church funds. When told that he must take his place in the line his face took on a look of great disappointment, but he hurrled out and afterward gained entrance by the rear door and demanded the money.

"I am 72 years old," he said to a Chronicle reporter, while he leaned back in a light cane chair and surveyed the unpleasant scene before him, "and I have never been in anything of this kind before. Still I feel that we will pull through all right. It may be that our enemies will succeed in crippling us for a time, but in the end, after every depositor has been paid, dollar for dollar, they will have nothing to boast about regarding our condition.

every depositor has been paid, dollar for dollar, they will have nothing to boast about regarding our condition.

"Of course we can never tell what the end will be in a case of this kind. There is no bank in the city that could stand a very long run, Our resources are all right—they are more than ample, in fact, and our credit is sound—but it is difficult to turn everything in the way of assets into money on short notice, and if the run continues we may be compelled to ask for time for the payment of some of the larger deposits."

Mrs. Spencer, the Doctor'sdaughter, who was stiting near at hand, approached him cocasionally while he was taiking to the reporter, and insisted that he should not endanger his health by resting his feet on the marble floor. She brought a rung and finally persuaded him to piace his feet upon it. The Doctor smiled upon his daughter and said: "It may be that all this trouble is for our good. God is great, and He will protect us if we are in the right." Then he fafairs of this bank it does not deserve to succeed, but I am positive of the fact that everything is all right."

A meeting of the directors was held before noon, and the announcement was made that ten days' notice would be required for the payment of all deposits over $100. When Dr. McDonald came from behind the rail and told this to the Chronicle reporter he said:

certain people who have not invested any money in them. That is legitimate, and cannot be questioned as long as the stock is p id for. I have perfect confidence in the Los Angeles Consolidated Electric is aliroad Company, but of course it is having its troubles, as every corper tion has.

"I believe the whole difficulty originates with the backers of the cable lines in Los Angeles. That is to say, I am so informed. They are bitter rivals of the electric railway company, and are doing their best to injure the credit of the people who have loaned their money to forward the enterprise. Of course if they can break down the electric line it will be money in their pockets, but I do not think they can do it for the company is perfectly sound. The cable-line people have waged an unfair battie upon the People's Home Bank. They have had an agent here for the past few days who has been doing everything in his power to injure that bank. It is to him that all this trouble today is due. He has done all this mischier, but I do not think the people who sent him are going to win their fight. They are in the wrong. This $150,000 loan of the People's Home Bank to the Los Angeles Electric Kaliway Company is no great matter. It will have no great effect upon the bank."

"Then you think the bank is perfectly safe?"

"Assuredly I do. The Pacific Bank is behind it, and that is an old and well-estabmorning was nearly $1,900,000. There are nearly $6000 depositors so that the average deposit is something over $200. By 3 p.m. only a little over $25,000 had been drawn from the bank. Some of the larger depositors were paid in checks on the Pacific Bank. Others had been sent away, after giving ten days' notice of their intention to withdraw their accounts.

A very favorable change in the tide of aff irs was made toward 1000, when Dr. C. T. Rea and J. M. Pike made deposits of considerable amounts in the bank. F. M. Wilson, an Oakland capitalist, deposited $1000. The bank officers say that they opened sixty-three new accounts, aggregating $7000, and about one hundred deposits in certificates in regular banking hours during the day.

At 12 s.m. Frank V. McDonald received the following telegram from John Bryson, in whose business transactions he is said to have been interested:

"F. V. McDonald, Puesic Bank: I am

"F. V. McDomald, Pacific Bank: I am solvent; don't owe one dollar outside of the note. We are making strangements to pay.

Criticism having been indulged in regarding the transactions of the bank in the San Gabriel Valley Railroad's stock, E. F. Spence, a heavy Los Angeles capitalist, also interested in the road, sent the fellowing telegram relating to those securities:

"Los Angeles, Cal., July 27.

"Frank V. McDonaid, cashier Pacific Bank: Your motor note is as good as any in bank.

There was not the slightest ripple of excitement at the Pacific Bank throughout the day. Many of the checks written on the bank at the People's Home Bank were not

The bank commissioners feel aggrieved because they have been accused of dereliction in duty for not examining the bank since hast October. They say that the law gives them a whole year, instead of six months, in which to make an examination, and this statement proves to be correct, as an amendment was passed by the Legislatuse in 1837 changing the former law and making the time one year. It was formerly six months.

After working hours the crowd in the bank and on the sidewalk was noticeably augmented, and the clerks at the three windows were kept constantly on the jump balancing small accounts and making change.

Many of the anxious depositors were girls from factories and shops, and there were a dozen or two children who withdrew their savings. A roly-poly chunk of a newsboy rushed in with three or four comrades, and shoying through the group at the wicket, cailed out: "Fork out-that seven-sixty, Capit lists can't take no chances these times."

A busing a corner, Ab Sing'is horse turned too sharply and the wago collided with a tigraph pole.

The vehicle was wrecked completely, and Ah Sing was hurled through space for some twenty feet, alighting on his face in the roadway. He lay there stunned by his fail four a few should halp the rest and on recovering consciousness, found that his horse had broken loose from the wreck and disappeared. His vegetables were, of course, scattered in all directions, and most of them damaged beyond hope of sale. After thinking the matter over, however, he was struck by the happy thought that the District Attorney would help him out, and he got on the first car and god over.

The unfortunate heathen was informed that the only thing the only thing the out with this somewhat scanty comfort, Ah Sing left the effice and hurried to the Police Court, where he filed his complaint.

Ex-Sheriff Currier was in the city yesterday and toid a queer story on an old German the court of the court of the silver, but he hesitated, money in hand, as though he didn't know what to do with so much specie, but finally pocketed it and walked out, looking rather sheepish.

A tall colored man stood around for half an hour or so, watching the coming and going crowd, and then, when there was a lail in the rush at the nearest window, he iaid down a bank book with a twenty-dollar piece and remarked, "I've been putting money in here ever since you opened." I guess you're all right and I'll have you take care of that for me."

When 8:30 o'clock, the hour set for closing, came, the rush seemed to be entirely over. There were not half a dozen depositors in the room, though the front door was open and the curtain was up, and they did not appear particularly eager. The officials of the bank held a brief consultation and decided to keep the doors open half an hour longer. During this additional time only a few straggiers appeared to reclaim their deposits, and when business was closed there was practically nobody waiting.

AN EPISODE.

Maj. "Then you think the bank is perfectly safe?"

"Assuredly I do. The Pacific Bank is behind it, and that is an old and well-established concern with a good credit."

"How about the effect of this People's Bank trouble, or other savings banks in this city?"

"It will have no more effect than a fly would have on Mt. Diablo. Our savings banks are as safe as those of any city in America. Of course, some foolish people may become frightened, but those whose judgment is worth anything will not become alarmed. I know very little about the real state of things in the People's Home Bank, but McDonald is behind it, and he is a man of great capital. None of the other banks will suffer."

Councilman Rees thought the matter should at least be carefully considered, as did Councilman Nickeil. They did not want to cripple the office, and it was generally conceded that the office could not be run with only one man.

Councilman Innes entered a vigorous protest, when Councilman McGarry moved that the matter be referred to a committee of five for investigation.

The motion prevailed, and Councilmen Nickell, Bonsall, Rhodes, Alford and Innes were appointed as such committee.

This cleared up the business before the committee, when it rose, the president took the chair, the report of the committee was presented, and the action confirmed by the Council.

Councilman Rhodes called attention to the street sweeping contract, and the motion he made to compel the contractor to live up to his contract. He wished to except Los Angeles, Commercial, Arcadia, and Requena streets from the rule.

After debate, Councilman Rhodes withdrew his motion, after which the petition of the overseer of the San Fernando road district for permission to connect a sprinkling hydrant to Zanja 9 E and take water for sprinkling about two miles of the road, was taken up, and, after debate, was granted.

THE CHINESE MURDER.

How Young Masias Came to be Arrested.

WORK OF THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE

The Boy's Uncle Offered to Sell Him Out for $100, but Afterward Denied All Knowledge of the Matter.

Deputies Russell and Cruz did do a good place of detective work in working up the mysterious Chinese murder at Ballons, the afternoon contemporary to the contrary notwithstanding. The murder was one of the most mysterious ever committed in this county. A Chinese vegetable peddler was quietly driving along in the early evening come. •

It is a good piece of work, anyway, and the detectives deserve all credit.

Some years ago 1 possessed a parrot which, among its other accomplishments, could mimic perfectly the cook's call for Kitty, the household cat.

Polly's cage hung usually in the kitchen, and Kitty's favorite mode of exit in the summer was through the adjoin-ing window and along the wooden partition fence which ran up to it.

No sooner would Polly observe Kitty sunning herself at the end of the fence or in the yard than up would go the cry:

"Here, Kitty, Kitty! Here, Kitty, Kitty!" and the deluded quadruped hardly ever failed to respond by dashing rapidly toward the window.

Then that mischievous parrot would chuckle and flap its wings and yell, "Ho, 'ho, ho!"—thereby clearly demonstrating its intense enjoyment of the practical joke played upon the credulou; cat. Do you think that Polly did not laugh!

If so, I don't know what a laugh is.— New York Telegram.

Having been sick all my life with stomach, spleen, liver, disease and in head a dizziness it was very hard to sit up. I was recommended to Dr. Hong Soi; after taking his medicines for two weeks I am entirely cured. I wish those who are sick would try Hong Soi. February 14.

Having been sick for about one year with kidney and bowel compaint and anxiety of mind and failing to derive any benefit from dectors in the kast, I resolved to try Dr. Hong Soi. I find after using his medicine for about two weeks, I am entirely cured.

I had been sick over a year with great distress in the stomach and frequent vomiting of clear water. Was so weak was not able to be off my bed tand was rapidly growing worse. Nearly all my people are troubled in the same way and have tried a great many physicians, so I thought I would try something they never tried and went to the celebrated Chinese physician, Dr. Hong Soi. He said my blood was turning to water, which is something no other physician had ever told us. He said he could cure me inside of two months. I took bis medicines (and strictly followed his instructions in regard to diet, etc.,) for six weeks when he pronounced me cured. Am now strong and well and I freely recommend Dr. Hong Soi has cured over 2500 people who were afflicted with nearly every form of the various diseases the human body is helt to. Fully 95 per cont of these cases were made of wrecks that could not find relief in the other system of medicine as practiced. There are over 3000 kinds of medicine (all herbs and roots and bark) which he imports direct and which have been used in China, 1000 to 5500 years.

THE BEST BARGAIN EVER OFFERED IN SEWING MACHINES.

A $45.00 SEWING MACHINE FOR $18.00.

INCLUDING ONE YEAR'S SUBSCRIPTION TO The Weekly Mirror.

We have made such arrangements as enable us to offer the Chicago Singer Sewing Machines At lower rates than ever before for a good machine, and we offer our reader; the advantage of the unprecedented bargains.
This machine is made after the latest models of the Singer machines, and is a perfect fac-sim le in shape, ornamentation and appearance. All the parts are made to guage exactly the same as the Singer, and are constructed of precisely the same and to guage exactly the same as the Singer, and are constructed of precisely the same materials.
The utmost cure is exercised in the selection of the metals used, and only the very best quality is purchased. Each machine is thoroughly well made and is fitted with the utmost nicety and exactness, and no out of the shots until it has been fully test d and proved to do perfect work, and run light and without noise.

to do perfect work, and run light and without noise.

The Chicago Singer Machine has a very important improvement in a Loose Balance Wheel so constructed as to permit winding bobbins without removing the work com the machine.

The Loose Balance Wheel is actuated by a solid bolt passing through a coll decurely pinned to the shaft outside of the balance wheel, which bolt is firmly held to dion by a strong spiral spring. When a bobbin is to be wound, the bolt is pulled out far exough to release the balance wheel, and turned slightly to the right or left, where it is held by a stop-pin until the bobbin is filled. Where the machine is liable to be meddled with by children, the bolt can be left out of the wheel when not in use, so that the machine can not be operated by the treadic.

The thread cyclet and the needle clamp are made self-threading, which is a very great onvenience.

Each Machine is Furnished with the Following Attachments: 1 SCREW DRIVER,
1 GAUGE,
1 GAUGE SCREW,
1 OIL-CAN, filled with oil,
1 INSTRUCTION BOOK,

FOOT HEMMER,
FOOT RUFFLER,
TUCKER,

CHECK SPRING,
THROAT PLATE,

6 HEMMERS, all different widths,
1 WRENCH,
1 THREAD CUTTER,
1 BINDER,
6 BOBBINS, 6 HEMMERS, all different

The driving wheel on this machine is admitted to be the simplest, easiest running and most convenient of any. The machine is self-threading, has the very best tension and thread liberator, is made of the best material, with the wearing parts hardened, and is finished in a superior style. It has veneered cover, drop-leaf table, 4 end drawers and conterswing drawer. The manufacturers warrant every machine for five years.

High Testimonials From Persons Using This Machine:

PORQUE?

Mr. Armour, of American hog fame, has been in Europe in the interest of his proteges. It is announced that he has substantially agreed, in case the embargo is raised, to establish a plant at Tolleston, Ind., which in point of cleanliness cannot be surpassed. He will pay the salary of an inspector, to be appointed by the German government, and, in order to avoid any danger of contamination, will ship the product to Germany in a special line of steamers. In order to do this it will be necessary to widen the Welland Canal or some other communication with the seaboard, and it is asserted that the money for such a project would be forthcoming immediately upon the raising of the embargo. It is inderstood that the report of an incleanliness, from a German standpoint, so long as the stockyards remain as they are.

It cannot be very satisfactory American consumers of hog products to notice that food which is too dubious for German consumption is considered good enough for Americans. In view of the disclosures which were made before a Congressional committee on the Pure Lard Bill, and of the testimony of experts who have recently been analyzing Chicago hogs, it might be well for the long-suffering American public to ask Mr. Armour to enforce similar regulations in the preparation of food for the home market to those which he offers to establish at the behest of the German government. If perfect cleanliness in stockwards is a good thing for German pork-eaters, then why not for Americans too? Porque?

REACHING THE RICH.

How to make the wealthy contribute fairly and fully to the expenses of government, has long been a problem with sociologists and statesmen. If that could be accomplished there is lit tle doubt that taxes would fall lightly on the poor. As it is at present, the tendency is the other way.

Income tax has been tried in some ountries, but is unpopular everywhere. especially in America and England, one of the chief objections being its inquisitorial character. There has been an attempt to revive it of late in some of the States. In some of the Swiss plainly that great wealth is not always cantons they have a graduated income a blessing. This man, who piled up a tax, under which system the man with fortune of $10,000,000, spent it like a small income pays little or water, with the consequence that he nothing, while the very wealthy became dissipated and finally lost his pay as high as 10 per cent. reason. who has $1000 can spare $100. Carnegie-himself a very wealthy man-recently advocated a tax on in heritances. The subject is further discussed in the North American Review by Prof. Richard Ely of John Hopkins University. Nearly all modern nations have adopted this system to a greater or lesser extent, also some of our States, notably New York, Maryland and Pennsylvania. Prof. Ely THE meeting of ex-Gov. Foraker thinks that inheritance of every sort and Senator Sherman at Cincinnati should be taxed, provided the share of

The taxation of inheritances should be graduated, the tax increasing as the relationship becomes more distant, and as the property becomes larger. This is in the line of the present development of taxation of inheritances. The tax rises to 20 per cent. of the estate in some of the Swiss cantons, to 12 per cent. in New Zealand, and to 10 per cent.

would have the tex vary from 1 to 20 per cent., establishing 20 per cent as the maximum; at any rate, until unbile opinion is more enlightened. Andrew Carnegie is willing to see a tax-rate of even 50 per cent., and advocates such a high tax on estates of decedents on social grounds. It will probably be a long time before so high a tax would meet with general approval, but we know that a tax of 20 per cent, works well. In the case of near relatives, small amounts insertied by each ought to be entirely exempt from taxation. There is provision in the laws of many countries that small legacies left to servants should be free from taxation, and this, like other provisions recognizing the family, is praiseworthy.

ing we arrived at Escurial. The country all about this place is perfectly barren for miles and miles there being not a spot cultivated. Everywhere there was granife, mountains of it, and we were told it was on account of granite that the great monastery had been built in that region. It was 10 o'clock before we were allowed to enter the gates of the Escurial, and in the meantime we had a little time to look at the village, which consists of a few houses just around the monastery.

Our party, consisting of eighteen women and one men, the father of one of the party, is a very lively one, every member of it determined to make the best of everything, and to enjoy the trip to the utmost. You can readily imagine that such a crowd cannot travel about unvalues of old books. To a lover of a crient manuscript this room is a rare treat, and we touched the books with noticed, for generally we keep together, and it is no unusual thing to find the people gathered about in great crowds to see the "senorius" from America. Our chaperone (Mass Hooker) is a woman of wide experience, and knows at every point, just the proper thing to do.

We were in Spain. It didn't take long to discover this fact, for the way the custom house officials rattled off the custom house officials rattled off the Spanish was a marvel, especially since but one or two in the party could understand a word, that was said. But once again we were passed through, settled in the train, on the way to San

We visited the school and were much interested in an exhibition which the pupils had prepared for us. It was very funny to hear them sing and recite in their broken English, Spaniard.

But although we were so pleased with San Sebastian, we were compelled to leave it. Our reception had been to leave it. We had been told the hotels in Spain were very uncomfortable, but we have been to the cooking is excellent, and we are all anxious and ready for every meal. There is fruit in abundance, but the chocolate which we get for breakfast is delicious, and to eat it is an art. The Spaniard dips hered in the cure of chocolate hered in the cure of chocolate hered.

We had been told the hotels in Spain were very uncomfertable, but we have found the most charming accommodations, nice, clean beds and good meals in every place. The places we have patronized seemed to be entirely conducted by women, and we have no cause to complain.

But to Burgos. The only place of interest in the town is the cathedral, and it was that we had come to see. When we started out in the morning, the needle curse from all sides to look.

the people came from all sides to look at us, and indeed, it at last took one of the guards to disperse the interested spectators. As we walked along the narrow streets surrounded by high, white buildings, we were very much impressed with the quaintness of the place, but when we came in sight of the cathedral we all exclaimed, "Oh, how lovely, and what a pity it should be hemmed in as it is with so many buildings." We climbed to the hill back of the town to get a full view of the buildings composing the cathedral, and we did not wonder that this had peen called one of the most imposing been called one of the most imposing edifices in the world.

As we went inside the feeling came upon me that I was treading on sacred ground, and I could but feel that a religion that could hold such an edifice as this, could not be all insincere. A mass for the dead was in progress, and as the peaks of the wast organs echoed as the peals of the wast organs echoed and died away, this and the chanting of the priests, the solemn reverence of all the people made us walk along on tip toe, fearing lest we should disturb the worshipers. The pictures, many of them by the old masters; the statues made of the most perfect Carrara marble; the wood carving and stone carving, all are so erfect that nothing has been left un-perfect that nothing has been left undone.

We were shown the tapestry woven by the monks in the thirteenth century, for the cathedral was begun at that time, although not finished until the fifteenth century. We saw the trunk of the Cid. You perhaps have heard how the Cid wishing to borrow money took a trunk to the bankers, telling them it contained all his treasures, and he wished to place it in their hands. They gave him all the money he wanted and when after long years the trunk was opened, behold! the treasure was nothing but stones. The guide points this chest out and tells the story with great glee.

But after looking through the various chapels, the guide told us to be presented in the story with great glee.

But after looking through the various chapels, the guide toid us to be prepared to see something dreadful. He took us into a small chapel, lighted candles on either side of the sitar, drew aside the curtain and we looked upon the Christ of Burgos. This is made of skin, stuffed to resemble a man with natural hair and beard, and as I looked upon the figure with the sad expression on the face, the marks of blood on all the body, the print of nails on hands and feet, I involuntarily dropped my head—it seemed so real. I turned away with a feeling of relief, and very soon after sought the open air, glad that I was not often called upon to see such ghastly sights.

We left Burgos that night, after have ing visited a monestery some distance from the town, and the next poors.

THE DAIRYMEN.

They Will Take Prominent Part in the World's Fair. CricAgo, July 29.—[By the Asso-clated Press.] The Executive Com-mittee of the Columbian Dairy Association and a committee from the va-rious dairy breeders' associations were in session here today. The Columbian association met in the morning to con-sider a proposition submitted by Chief Buchanan of the World's Fair agricultural department, the proposition being that the World's Fair authorities being that the World's Fair authorities furnish the necessary buildings, food and water for fifty head of cattle of each of the various breeds during the exposition and in return take all of the products of the cattle. It was deemed best before taking action to allow the breeders to meet and prepare a report regarding their purposes.

The breeders accordingly met in the afternoon. After a long debate over the question of churns, a chemical test for cattle products, it was decided to recommend that all milk tests be made by chemical analysis. Prizes were recommended to be given for one cow for one week, and for thirty days; for a herd of five cows and a herd of twenty-five cows or more for the same period, there to be first, second, third and fourth prizes in each division, the contest to be between different associations or different individuals. ent individuals.

BALMACEDA'S LOSSES.

AN INSURGENT VERSION OF HIS WANING POWER.

The Congressional Party Declares That the Election of Vicuna as President is Void.

By Telegraph to The Times. WASHINGTON, July 29.—[By the Associated Press.] The Chilean Congressional envoys emphatically deny the truth of reports from Santiago to the effect that 1000 soldiers of the Congressional army at Iquique refused to leave there when ordered to Atacama because they had received no pay. The soldiers of the Iquique government, they say, are volunteers, but aside from this fact the government has plenty of money with which to pay ful. The government of Balmaceda, they assert, has made no progress since the commencement of the revolution, and each month since it began has ex-

Armes at the inauguration of President Harrison was a retired army officer living in Washington. On the inauguration day Armes received a fancied grievday Armes received a fancied grievauce from some Pennsylvania officials. A few evenlags afterward he met Gov. Beaver of Pennsylvania in the lobby of a hotel and publicly insulted him, even going so far as to pull his nose. Capt. Armes was tried by court-martial for conduct unbecoming to an officer and gentleman, found guilty and sentenced to dismissal from the army.

The President subsequently commuted the sentence and ordered Armes to be restricted within the limit of fifty miles of the District of Columbia for three years. Upon the recommendation of the Secretary of War the President has now commuted this sentence and Armes in the future can go where he pleases.

DR. WOH. The Eminent Chinese Physician.

Dr. Woh's life work has been from early youth one of per-sistent and untiring observation, study and investigation, as fully as lay in his power to perfect himself in all branches of the art of healing human sickness and disease. Born in China, of influential parents, of a family whose ancestors have been for generations deservingly renowned as leading physicians, Dr. Woh naturally followed in the footsteps of his fathers. In China he has practiced his profession for several years, being at one time a physician in the imperial Hospital, and in America for a long time his great number of patients, his wonderful and many cures, and the great list of letters from grateful and thankful patrons now prove him to be a remarkable and successful healer of sickness and all diseases.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—|Special to THE TIMES.| The produce markets were generally quiet this morning, and prices were fairly steady. Wheat was firm with good demand for shipping grades. Barley was steady with fair demand for feed grades. Corn and oats were unchanged. Millstuffs were steady. Hay is in heavy supply and weaker.

The vegetable market is only fairly active. Cucumbers are a drug. Squash is unsaleable. Of corn, receipts are liberal, but prices are steady. Tomatoes are weak. Potatoes are still in heavy supply. Onlons are plentiful and weak.

Supplies of summer fruit are heavy. Canflers at $3, archest. Peaches are coming the plentifully and are of inferior quality; prices are lower. Apricots are also down today under heavy receipts. Grapes are laters, but prices are unchanged. Canta-loupes are dull and in heavy supply. Huckleberries are offered at 12% cents per pound.

Prices are firmer in the dairy produce market for all better grades of butter and eggs, although there is no scarcity in the arrivals of either.

A piece of metal, weighing about forty pounds, that looked like a nickel plated section of a railroad track, has been exhibited in Pittsburg. It is a model of the Roulson railroad joint. The patent of the spince pars in use on most of the roads at present. It is claimed for the new joint that it not only makes the rail lead, or other corrosive polars been so long and thor 60 per cent. stronger at the joint than at any other place, but also that it will there is less metal used in pieces. The splice bars are made of iron, but the new joints are of soft steel .- New York Tele

Birds Are Like Human Beings. Canaries, like human beings, vary very much in character, some cocks be ing so indifferent and idle that they will let the hen do all the work of building and rearing, while they themselves sit and plume their feathers. Others again, are perfect gentlemen in their manners, waiting on the hen with a quiet courtesy, and seeing that all she warranted "APHRODITINE" or money refunded. requires is at once brought to her. Again, the hens vary in disposition, some hens behaving in a quiet, modest way, attending to their young ones with regularity, while others are in a constant state of chatter with their husbands, pecking and arguing with them every time they go near. Thus we see that these little birds have their tiffs and domestic quarrels, not unlike our-selves.—Chambers' Jonrnal.

It is evident from Arrian and Porphyry that vegetarian orders of men were well known in their time, and that they were found in India in the time of Alexandria. They existed in different orders long before the time of Jesus in Egypt, Syria, etc., and were known by the names of Essenians, Essennees, Esyans, Coenobites and Faithists, etc., and those on Mount Carmel, of whom Elijah, the prophet, was the chief rabbi, described by Pliny, were known as Carmelites. Whatever the name the principles were all the same—all were vegetarian. The Masonic order had its origin in these ancient brotherhoods without doubt. All the Masonic emblems of today were known to these brotherhoods, so also their passwords.-Dr. Tanner in Late Visitors to the Mountain Locals and Localettes - Two Youthful Pedestrians-Personal Notes.

The big building occupied by the Athletic Club on South Raymond avenue was all ablaze with light and color on Tuesday evening. The read-ing-room newly papered and decorated with the club colors, the billiard-room with numerous noticeable improve-ments, and up stairs the large and well-equipped gymnasium all looked their best, and the entire interior wore an air of completeness which plainly illustrated the fact that the club is illustrated the fact that the club is "well fixed."

The occasion was the initial exhibition of indoor sports and gymnastics given by the club for the special benefit of their lady friends. By 8 o'clock an audience of over 200 people had assembled, fully half the number being composed of members of the fair sex who evinced a lively interest in the novelty of the events provided for their entertainment.

President F. Martin Summers opened the exercises in a brief and well-chosen address. He expressed the plea us of the members of the club in seeing so many of their fair friends present. Only a little over ten months ago, he said, the club was organized with twenty-seven members. The club then occupied but one room on the ground floor of the building, which was generously donated, rent free, by J. W. Vandevort. Now the organization numbers 150 paying members and has leased the entire building for a period of three years. It was the first club in Southern California to join the Pactic Association Amateur Athletic Union. Last Thanksgiving day the first field day sports were held at Sportsman's Park, when the attendance was unexpectedly large. The Executive Committee has handled $743.89, of which amount $717.15 has been expended for club purposes, leaving a balance of $26.74 in the treasury, and no outstanding obligations. Mr. Summers stated that the club has decided to offer the exclusive use of the gymnasium and the rest of the building on two afternoons of each week to the wives, sisters, sweethearts and lady friends of the members if they desire to form a class.

gymnasium and the rest of the building on two atternoons of each week to the wives, sisters, sweethearts and lady friends of the members if they desire to form a class.

About a dozen members of the club then appeared, attired in regulation gymnasium costume, which set off their well-developed forms to good advantage. The class went through some exercises on the horizontal bur, each performer gying a little act of his own. Then came a mediey of exercises, during which nearly all the apparatus in the gymnasium was brought into play. This was followed by iswo-round aparring matches between the part of the spectators. Similarly and the sum of the part of the spectators are the control of th

The paper read by Dr. Mohr on the importance of the microscope in the management of Bright's disease, be-management of Bright's disease, before the Medical Society Tuesday evening, was one of special interest.

A brief synopsis follows: Richard Bright, an Englishman, in 1827 advanced the idea that certain forms of dropsy, accompanied by the appearance of albumen in the urine were due to disease of the kidneys, but the nature of the structural changes produced thereby were unknown to him. Valentin, a Frenchman, was the first person to make microscopical examinations of diseased kidneys. Reinhart in 1850, Fresichs in 1851, and George Joanson in 1852 published the results of investigations, which established the doctrine of the inflammatory character of the affections described by Bright on a firmer footing. It is now known that albumen may be present in the urine in other conditions than those of true Bright's disease and in circumstances of a temporary character. It is, therefore, necessary from a pleasant outing in the San Ga-than those of true Bright's disease and in circumstances of a temporary character. It is, therefore, necessary to examice the urinary sediment for the presence of tube casts, which can only be done by a skillful manipulation of the compound microscope.

The most common cause of this disease is taking coid by exposure in damp, chilly weather, but it also occurs as a complication during the course of other diseases. The disease is not always fatal, but many cases are readily curable if recognized early. It is, therefore, apparent that the microscope is an indispensable instrument in the management of many of our most common diseases.

A FLIRTATION

Pre been flirting today with a baby
In the window right over the way,
And the neighbors are gossiping may be;
But I don't care a bit what they say.

He's a dear little curly lashed fellow, With eyes that are laughing and sweet: His hair was like grain, golden yellow, He'd blue shoes—for he showed me his feet

He glanced at me, pleasantly smiling.
As though saying, "I wish you'd remain.
Then he tapped on the window beguiling
And flattened his nose 'gainst the pane. He threw me a kiss for a greeting.
He showed me the lace on his drees;
But, ahl why are moments so fleeting?
The time came for luncheon, I guess,

Then I waved him goodby—oh, the saddest, And smiled to him over the way. And he looked, of all babies, the maddest, When the nurse came and took him away

But sometimes he will peck thro' the curtain
And hold the lace edges apart.
So I'll watch every day, for I'm certain
That baby has broken my heart!

ment of the fibers.

In the early days of the manufacture the best results were only attainable in worsted yarns from long fibered fleece. The English wools are commonly called combing wools for this reason, and it was the possession of this fleece of an unrivaled quality which made England it the birthplace of the worsted manufacture, and has kept it at the front in this process.

One of the results of improved machinery has been to remove any distinction between woolens and worsteds based upon the difference between the wools employed in the two processes. Short wool of merino blood can now be combed as successfully as the longer staple. The processes of treatment, however, continue to differ radically. This difference is primarily created by the introduction of the combing machine, an instrument unknown to the wool manufacture proper.—S. N. D. North in Popular Science Monthly.

The shoes are painted with a dye, after which a cake of specially prepared wax is placed against a rapidly revolving brush, which absorbs just enough to yield a coat of dressing to the shoe bottom. The sole, hitherto a dull black, is speedily polished by wheel worked by an electric motor. This wheel consists of a rubber cushion inflated with air, covered with cloth and fixed on a grooved pulley. The reduction in the cost of the process is remarkable, as from 600 to 800 pairs of heels or soles can be burnished daily by the new machine.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

A Tragedy in Buttons.

Little Johnny West, of Detroit, is now in good condition to play "Button, button, who's got the button?" His mother gave him half a dozen horn buttons to hold while she threaded a needle and got ready to sew them on his clothes. Master Johnny swallowed the buttons, one and all, and doesn't know why he did it. As a walking button box he seems to be a complete success.—Detroit Free Press.

Mr. and Mrs. Aroner Patch Up Their Differences.

Mrs. Archer and her husband have compromised their differences, and agreed to live together again. The lady went to the police station Monday evening, with her two-year-old child, and asked to be locked up for protection, as she was afraid her husband would kill her. She said that she was anxious to return to her relatives in Chicago, as she had found that it was impossible to live with her husband. She and her child were provided for at the station, and the Chicago relatives communicated with by telegraph. Tuesday morning Archer called at the station and had a long interview with his wife. They were unable to come to any understanding and he finally left. Later in the day he sent his wife's trunk to the station, and it was supposed that the last had been seen or him. Yesterday, however, he again called, when there was another long conference, the upshot of which was that, on Archer promising not to drink any more, his wife agreed to make another effort to live with him, and they left the station together. two-year-old child, and asked to be locked another effort to live with him, and they left the station together.

Archer, it is said, will sell out what property he has in Los Angeles, and the family will return to Chicago, their former home.

The San Antonio and Aransas Pass Raliroad, the management of which is to be assumed by D. B. Robinson of the Atlantic and Pacific, according to the latest advices, which appear to be authentic, is in opera-tion between San Antonio and Aransa Pass in Texas. From the latter point it is Pass in Texas. From the latter point it is projected to run southward along the Guif of Mexico to Tampico and Vera Cruz, if not further. The enterprise started out with a flourish but encountered financial difficulties which held it back. It is probable difficulties which held it back. It is probable that its prospects are brightening and that construction will be resumed, in which case the selection of Mr. Robinson as manager will prove a wise choice. No details of Mr. Robinson's plans are known, and in truth, there is not even official confirmation of the story of the change, though it is accepted as a settled fact; but wherever he goes, his friends know that he will make a success. As for the statement that K. H. Wade will succeed him in the management of the Atlantic and Pacific, there is yet no confirmation. Mr. Wade is expected home Saturday, and he may have something to say which will throw some light on the subject.

It will be lost if the Baltimore and Ohio builds to the grounds, but even if this competition should not be realized, the cinch is in danger. The peril comes from a contract between the Big Four and the Illinois Central by which the former is entitled to use all the latter's Chicago terminals free of any switching charges. If the Big Four abrugates the switching charge it will capture considerable business from the Illinois Central, but by so doing it would compel all the east and south lines to absorb the switching charge—that is stand the charge themselves and not tax it up to the consignees—for the ramifications of the Big Four system extend far and wide.

THE REDONDO RAILEOAD REPORT.

THE REDONDO RAILEOAD REPORT. Some serious inaccuracies appear to have crept into the recently published report of the Redondo Railroad, to the State commisthe Redondo Railroad, to the State commission. The sworn statement filed with the Board of Railroad Commissioners, shows that the capital stock instead of being $29,-100, should be $500,000, $291,500 of which has been paid up. The net floating indebtedness, instead of being $313,000, should read $29,590,52—a difference of nearly $300,-000. The income of the company, instead of showing a defict, shows a surplus of nearly $20,000. The number of employés (49) is correct, but the amount paid is $15,-752,40, instead of $35,526,40.

SCRAP HEAP. W. A. Mitchem, agent for the Santa Féroute at San Bernardino, came over to the Los Angeles headquarters yesterday. It is estimated that 1500 people went to Santa Monica yesterday to see the Charleston. The cruiser today will go to Santa Barbara, to which point an excursion rate has been made by the Southern Pacific.

W. T. Allen, general agent of the passenger department of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, who has been situated in San Francisco for a number of years, has tendered his resignation, to take effect on August 1, on account or lil-health. The local freight and passenger departments of the line will now be consolidated and placed under the charge of C. L. Canfield, at present acting in the capacity of Pacific. Coast freight agent, ent acting in the capacity of Facine. Coast freight agent,

The statements originally published in a San Francisco paper relative to the implication of Passenger Agent Welch of the Missouri Pacific in a rate-cutting scheme have been sifted to the bottom and found to be without foundation. The story was given out from a competing office, and proves to be not only false, but highly tinctured with malignity, and circulated with the express purpose of injuring the reputation of the subject.

W. E. Sterne, a director of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad Company, who is now on a visit to this Coast, states that the Atchison road will begin active building operations from Mojave northward as soon as the surveyors complete their work. The road will make San Francisco a terminal point, and will run through Gil-work. The road will make San Francisco a terminal point, and will run through Gil-roy and San José en route. There has been some talk that the line would reach San Francisco via Oakland, but a decision on that point has not been reached. Should that be the route, a branch line will be built from San Francisco southward to San José, and probably to Monterey, but the choice of route will be made hereafter.

According to Altitude.

How the population of the United States is distributed according to altitude is indicated by a census bulletin just issued. Below 500 feet are the people engaged in manufacturing, foreign commerce, and most of those engaged in the cultivation of cotton, rice and sugar. The prairie States and the grain-producing States of the Northwest, are located on the interval between 500 and 1500 feet. East of the ninety-eighth meridian, 1500 feet is practically the upper limit of population. The area between 2000 and 3000 feet constitutes almost everywhere the debatable ground between the arid region of the Cordilleran plateau and the humid region of the Mississippi Valley. In the altitude of 3000 feet, irrigation is necessary for agricultural operations. The occupation of the people living above 6000 feet is mining. The movement of population is toward the higher altitudes, and is most marked between 1000 and 6000 feet. The greatest density is on the sea-board, and decreases uniformly until the altitude of 2000 feet is reached. At this point it becomes quite sparse. According to Altitude.

Baking Powder is absolutely pure. No other equals it, or approaches it in leavening strength, purity, or whole-

No other will maintain its strength without loss until used, or will make bread or cake that will keep fresh so long, or that can be eaten hot with impunity, even by dyspeptics. No other is so economical.

MIDSUMMER Story of a New York Bank.

Mrs. Jones' death suggests the story of the founding of the Chemical bank. This institution is in some respects the most famous of American banking houses. A good many years ago certain shrewd and wealthy Welshmen undertook to start a factory for the manufacture of chemicals, and as a branch of this undertaking they proposed to have a little bank, more for convenience than for money making. The chemical factory was started, and the little bank got agoing at the same time, and one man was able to act so president, cashier and teller. By and by it began to dawn upon the stockholders that the little bank was the most profitable branch of their undertaking

A hard headed Welshman named Jones, who had married the daughter of Mr. Mason, the founder of the chemical factory and bank, began to teach the old New Yorkers what banking was. The capital was small, and the profits were constantly charged to the surplus account, until by and by the stockholders found that they had a bigger surplus than they had capital. The business increased, and so did the surplus, and the directors kept on adding the profits to the surplus, satisfied to see that pile grow rather than to take the dividends

Out of this kind of banking has grown the modern Chemical bank, on a capital of $300,000. It has made a surplus of many millions of dollars, it pays frequently semi-monthly dividends of 4 or 5 er cent., its stock is quoted away up in the thousands and is only obtainable through the death of some stockholder and the subsequent closing out of his estate.—New York Cor. Chicago Herald.

At only five points can we just touch each other, and all that is—and that only by the function of our poor senses the outside. In vain we rack them that we may get a little closer to the best beloved and most implicitly trusted; ever in vain, from the cradle to the great qualities of the Royal Baking Powder.

RAFIANO'S PISTOL AND THE RIPPER'S KNIFT ered by the police. The weapon is a stiletto and revolver combined. The pistol is self cocking and the knife has a double edge. Rafiano was thus prepared to stab and shoot simultaneously. He could pin his victim to the ground, and at the same time fire five bullets into his body. For secondrelly incompity the weapon forms scoundrelly ingenuity the weapon quite a contrast to the primitive knife used by New York's "Jack the Ripper." The difference between the two is well shown in the illustration.
